Re Item V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability;
citations and explanations supporting such statement

Reference is made to the following document:

D1: WO 01/19936 A (HEALEY MICHAEL JOHN ;BAE SYSTEMS PLC (GB))

The present application does not meet the criteria of Article 33(1) PCT, because the subject-matter of claim 1 is not new in the sense of Article 33(2) PCT.

The document D1 discloses, cf. claim 1 and figures 1-3, a method of enabling two components to be joined together, the method including the steps of providing a first component having a surface to be joined to a corresponding surface of a second component, the first and second component being so shaped that if joined there would be a gap defined between said surfaces of the first and second components, providing a resin infusion system comprising a source of resin, effecting flow of the resin from the source of resin in the gap by means of suction, thereby substantially filling the gap with resin, and curing the resin.

D1 also discloses that the component to be joined are aircraft components, see page 6, line 21

For the same reasons, the shim forming apparatus according to claim 18, the moulding tool according to claim 22, and the product independent claims 23-25 also lack novelty over the disclosure of D1.

Dependent claims 2-17, 19-21 do not contain any features which, in combination with the features of any claim to which they refer, meet the requirements of the PCT in respect of novelty or inventive step, the reasons being the obviousness, the optionality or the disclosure by D1.
